There happened to be few or no soldiers present at the time; so the hsien, in the exercise of a wise discretion, for which he thanks to the chairman, directors, and will probably suffer, however, complied Scrape, scrape scrape. with the demands, and what is more, feasted his assailants plenteously on pork and samshu. The revelries being over, the Bhotans quietly departed, taking the rescued with them, whereupon the chi-hsien promptly reported the whole proceedings to headquarters. The Governor, who had only just returned from a rather disastrous campaign on the north-east coast, where, Downger, the Emperor and Empress, and besides being badly beaten he had lost four Imperial concubines, left the palace in several guns, as may be imagined was not one to eighteen the Presbytery of Peking before sunrise on the 4th April, and in the best temper for receiving such Cincinnati concluded that fall dying in they are timed to return to the Capital on information. An expedition was quickly infancy are saved. -Sioux City Journal. planned, and troops to the number of five ed about five li ahead of the Emperor and thousand have been sent overland, and by water to Tainanfoo. The transport Hasching has been employed for the last fortnight in making daily trips between Tainanfoo and Lankiao, the nearest port to the score of operations; each time carrying down as many troops and as much ammunition as she could take. The force appears to be woll supplied with arms of the latest pattern, including a largenumber of war-rockets, on which latter the Governor is said to pin great fuith. On dit, however, the soldiers are a little afraid of using them, as in their hands the rockets have hitherto been apt to prove too impartial in their effects. To obviate this, as far as possible, a detachment of thirty or forty Cantonese, trained in the use of rockets, have accompanied the expedition. Some of the troops that have come down from the north appear a fine body of men, and seem to have been foreign drilled. But the majority are the usual 'tag-rag and bob-tail' that go to make up native regiments. The most effective force, however, that has been sent forward is supplied by a friendly aboriginal, named Lim, from the district of Changwha, who his retainers. These latter are well used to savage warfare, and being undoubtedly brave are likely to prove effective allies Limis the same man who, during the French most of the work in that campaign. commander-in-chief of the present expedition gives out that he intends this time to exterminate the whole Bhotan tribe, re opening communication with Pilam on the east coast, but as we have heard this boast so often before, and so frequently seen i unfalfilled, we are naturally somewhat incredulous as to its accomplishment being so near. The truth is that, so long as the Chivese contout themselves with desultory and vicarious campaigns, ceasing operations as soon as the savages retire to their mountain fastnesses, from whence they keep up a bris! guerilla attack on their assailants, no practical advance towards the subjugation of BAROMETER- 9 A.M. ... 29.95 found essential, numely, that a first necessity is a line of frontier forts, to be gradually pushed forward, together with good roads, and other means for quickly transporting truops from one point to auother, something may be hoped for. Until then, however, nothing but unsatisfactory and even disastrous results, while engaging so pertinacious and fines a fee as the savages undoubtedly are, can be expected. H.B. the Governor seems to be hopelessly crippled for want of funds, and it appears to tax all his energies to keep up even these perpetually recurring and hitherto ineffective demonstrations of military activity. and striving to gless over troublesome northern inquiry by the glowing reports for which his various expeditions are made to supply material. Compare the actual state affairs now : the savages triumphant all along the line from north to south, their fr. ntiers extended, and indeed only persuaded to keep within these by dint of beavy bribes and concession, with the memorial sent up to Peking, just after the French blockade, describing the advances made by the Chinese forces all over aboriginal territory, the inhabitants of which were eagerly begging for razors to shave their heads, and thus be enabled to exhibit the sign of Manchu supremacy."
